

SUMMARY OF PRESENTATION

Finding Stability and Growth in the Midst of Trade Wars

Jeffrey D. JONES

Attorney, Kim & Chang, South Korea

There are significant concerns and uncertainties surrounding the global trading environment. BREXIT is leaving all of Europe wondering about the future of trade with one of the major economies in Europe. The trade war between the U.S. and China has global impact on almost all economies and systems. North Korea continues to create uncertainty and the Middle East has yet to find a lasting stability despite the pockets of calm in certain areas. Here in Korea, we face continued friction with Japan that is having a significant impact on exports and imports between both countries. Mr. Jones will comment on strategies and practices that will help companies and governments bring calm to their markets, help expand consumption and minimize the impact of declining trade volumes.
