

CURRICULUM VITAE

Impact of the e-Commerce on Maritime & Port Logistics

Amy Min Ju BAE

Managing Director, Global Port Partners, Singapore

Professional Experiences

- 2021 - Present: Co-Founder & Managing Director, Global Port Partners, Singapore
- 2018 – 2021: Co-Founder & Business Development Director, Global Port Partners, Singapore
- 2013 - Present: Co-Founder & Director, OKO Markets, Singapore
- 2011 - 2013: Research Engineer, National University Singapore, Singapore

Amy is the Managing Director of Advisory in Global Port Partners. She has more than a decade of research and consulting experience in maritime industry, and has operated in several maritime cities: Singapore, Busan and Rotterdam.

In particular, Amy specializes in port competition dynamics, terminal operations and supply chain optimization. Beyond advising terminal operators, she had also published several research papers on these areas and was part of the winning team in the Next Generation Container Port Challenge organized by MPA Singapore.

Beyond her role in Global Port Partners, Amy is also an executive director of a Singapore based start-up that specializes in business matchmaking and benchmarking across a wide spectrum of industries. With this, she brings along considerable expertise in initiating and managing deals in the vibrant container terminal broking space.

Educational Background

- 2013: Master of Industrial & Systems Engineering, National University of Singapore, Singapore
- 2005: Maritime Economics and Logistics, Erasmus University, Netherlands
- 2004: Master of Logistics & Systems Engineering, Korea Maritime & Ocean University, South Korea
- 2002: Bachelor of Logistics & Systems Engineering, Korea Maritime & Ocean University, South Korea